

The 2nd National Symposium on English Language Assessment: Assessment for Learning 20-21 March 2019

The National Symposium on English Language Assessment is a language assessment initiative presented by the British Council Indonesia Foundation in collaboration with TEFLIN and Universitas Negeri Jakarta. The symposium provides a forum for assessment experts and practitioners, educational professionals and academics to interact, exchange information and keep abreast of the leading developments and issues in language assessment in Indonesia and wider Asia.

Following in the footsteps of the 1st National Symposium in 2018, the British Council Indonesia Foundation presents the 2nd National Symposium on English Language Assessment to be held in Jakarta on 20 - 21 March 2019. The focus is on the alignment of teaching and assessment in learning systems. The two-day event includes workshops, plenary sessions and panel discussions and smaller breakout group sessions.

Call for Papers

Academics, researchers, teachers and other educators are invited to submit presentation proposals that relate to the overall theme of Assessment for Learning and, in particular, to the following themes:

- Developing teacher assessment literacy
- Formative assessment for writing
- Writing test items to promote learning

In particular, we are interested in assessment-in-action papers that provide insight into classroom practice and the in-service development of teaching and testing skills in the Indonesian Higher Education context.

Details

Abstracts for intended presentations should be submitted using the form below to the email address: eaast@britishcouncil.org.cn by midnight (Jakarta time) on Sunday, 27 January 2019.

Abstracts will be reviewed by a panel and presenters will be notified by midnight on Friday, 15 February 2019.

Presentations will be limited to 20 minutes with 5 minutes for audience questions.

The British Council plans to include quality papers in a symposium publication and on our website for those who are interested in writing up their presentations.
